ANNUAL REPORT

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRS

During 2024, Optometry Giving Sight (OGS) continued to positively impact the lives of people worldwide who suffer unnecessarily from preventable vision impairment and blindness. Through the continued support of our very generous donors, we were able to award grants totaling nearly $1 million for 16 projects designed to provide both short-term and long-term sustainable solutions to the issue of uncorrected refractive error globally.

Projects funded in 2024 are being implemented in more than 18 countries worldwide, with three programs impacting multiple countries and geographic regions. This brings to more than 50 the number of countries in which OGS has supported the delivery of primary eye care services and the expansion of the optometry profession.

We are pleased to watch the continued development of the 14 optometry schools we have helped establish throughout the years. From Nicaragua and Malawi to Mozambique and Mali, the schools are training the next generation of optometrists to serve in areas of the world most in need.

Despite many challenges, including civil unrest, the University of Haiti continues to train future optometrists and is preparing to welcome to its faculty two of its former students who have recently completed internships at the University of Montreal.

During 2024, Vietnam celebrated the 10th anniversary of establishing the optometry profession in the country, a milestone made possible due to OGS and its partners founding the first two optometry schools in the country. Since that time, 452 optometrists have graduated.

We welcomed Donna J. Mikulecky as OGS Executive Director last year. We both had the pleasure of serving with Donna on the U.S. and Canada OGS Boards of Directors before she was appointed Executive Director. She has 25-plus years of experience leading healthcare organizations and brings tremendous passion, business acumen, and industry knowledge to the role.

We look forward to 2025 and the opportunity to continue to build on the legacy of our organization's founder, Professor Brien Holden, PhD. This year marks the 10th anniversary of his passing.

In his memory, OGS will host the inaugural Brien Holden Founders Award Dinner on October 7 in Boston, MA, prior to the American Academy of Optometry's 2025 Annual meeting. During the evening, we will present the first Brien Holden Founders Awards. We hope you can join us for what promises to be a memorable celebration of the man and his legacy.

Thank you to everyone who made 2024 such an impactful year in our ongoing efforts to eradicate uncorrected refractive error globally.

MISSION AND VISION

OUR VISION FOR GIVING SIGHT

A world in which optometry enables universal access to vision care and eye health.

OUR MISSION FOR GIVING SIGHT

Optometry Giving Sight supports sustainable and scalable optometry-led programs that educate eye care providers locally and enable the establishment and delivery of vision care and eye health to all.

SUSTAINABILITY STATEMENT

GIVE A MAN A FISH, HE EATS FOR A DAY.
TEACH A MAN TO FISH, HE EATS FOR A LIFETIME.

There are many challenges facing the world today, and many ways to solve them.

Optometry Giving Sight is focused on teaching others to fish, and on long-term and permanent solutions to poor vision caused by the lack of access to primary eye care. We're committed to sustainability – to funding projects around the world that provide long-term, impactful solutions to eradicate avoidable vision impairment and blindness.

We believe that our work -- establishing optometry schools, training optometry professionals, building vision care centers, and working with governments globally to incorporate optometry into national health programs -- is the best approach to ensuring that primary eye care services are built for success and longevity.

Q & A

WITH EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR DONNA J. MIKULECKY

Healthcare industry veteran Donna J. Mikulecky became Optometry Giving Sight's Executive Director in 2024. Prior to assuming that role, she served on the OGS Board of Directors.

How did you become involved in Optometry Giving Sight?

I spent many years in the healthcare industry, most recently for an optometrist membership organization. I became a member of the OGS Board of Directors during my tenure there. In October of 2024, I had the opportunity to begin serving as the organization's Executive Director.

I'm passionate about our mission and honored to lead an organization that's making a positive and meaningful global impact. In countries like ours, access to eye care is often taken for granted. However, more than 1.1 billion people around the world still lack access to basic eye exams and eyeglasses.

This has real consequences—children struggle to learn, adults are unable to work, and older individuals can lose their independence.

That's why our work matters. So far, we've helped more than 15 million people see and thrive in their daily lives. I'm proud to be part of this effort to restore vision, dignity, and opportunity to so many.

Tell us about the work done by OGS

For nearly 20 years, we've been raising charitable donations from across the optometry industry to support sustainable, optometry-led projects that expand access to vision care around the world.

These projects are funded by OGS and implemented by trusted partner organizations with deep expertise in managing global vision and eye health initiatives.

While immediate solutions like eye exams and glasses are essential, our focus is on long-term impact—supporting initiatives that build and strengthen optometry where it's needed most.

By partnering with experienced organizations, we invest in self-sustaining solutions that help communities develop their own capacity to deliver quality eye care—ensuring access not just for today, but for generations to come.

^{1,2,3} International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness. (2019). IAPB Vision Atlas. Retrieved from <https://www.iapb.org/learn/vision-atlas/>

Why is the work of Optometry Giving Sight so important?

If you look at data published by the International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness (IAPB), you'll find a dire shortage of optometry professionals in developing countries. For example, there are only two optometrists per million people in Sub-Saharan Africa – and just 31 in the Latin America and Caribbean region¹. That compares to 112 per million in the United States.²

Ninety million children worldwide suffer from vision loss simply because they lack access to primary eye care services.³ Thus, there is a need for both immediate care and long-term solutions to the problem. Many worthwhile efforts are underway to provide one-time eye exams and eyeglasses to meet this immediate need.

Many of the projects we fund provide these critical services. The projects we fund must also include initiatives that offer training and education for optometrists, as well as develop infrastructure to support the optometry profession in the regions where they take place. Our goal is to expand the number of optometry professionals in underserved areas worldwide, ensuring better eye care for local communities.

There is an urgent need for both immediate eye care and sustainable, long-term solutions. Many commendable initiatives currently provide one-time eye exams and eyeglasses to address immediate needs, and some of the projects we support deliver these vital services. However, lasting change requires more than temporary relief. That's why we also prioritize funding programs that include training and education for optometrists, along with the development of infrastructure to support the profession. Our ultimate goal is to increase the number of qualified optometry professionals in underserved regions around the world, ensuring consistent and accessible eye care for local communities.

What are some of Optometry Giving Sight's accomplishments over the years?

I'm pleased to say that – thanks to support from our very generous donors – OGS has had a tremendous global impact. We've helped establish 14 optometry schools in developing countries, funded training for more than 14,000 optometry professionals, and helped establish over 130 vision centers. We've served more than 15 million patients in over 50 countries.

But, there is so much work still to be done. The IAPB projects that the number of people suffering vision loss will increase to 1.7 billion people by 2050 unless we invest significantly in vision care. (3)

With the continued support of the optometry community, we aim to build on this amazing legacy for years to come.

How can the optometry community support Optometry Giving Sight?

There are numerous meaningful ways that optometrists, businesses and organizations within optometry can get involved. Whether through a one-time or recurring donation, joining our annual World Sight Day Challenge or becoming part of TEAM OGS, every contribution plays a critical role in helping us further our impact worldwide. Building an Optometry-Driven Sustainable School Eye Health Program in South Africa

GRANTEE: African Eye Institute Trust

This project, by the African Eye Institute Trust, includes providing eye exams and free eyeglasses for children, vision screening training for teachers and others, and working with the government to prioritize child eye health in South Africa.

Every Child Sees – One School at a Time, Pakistan

GRANTEE: Berkeley Vision

The grant funds the screening of 20,000 children at schools in underserved areas of Karachi, Pakistan, by providing free refraction services and eyeglasses and referring children needing advanced eye examinations to hospitals. Also included is training for optometrists, project staff, and school teachers.

Pediatric Refractive Error Training Centre and continuation of developing the optometry profession in Hanoi, Vietnam

GRANTEE: Brien Holden Vision Institute Foundation

The project funded by this grant includes the ongoing expansion and enhancement of clinical care at the Pediatric Refractive Error Training Centre in Hanoi, Vietnam. The Centre, established partly by previous grants from OGS, is the clinical training and patient care facility affiliated with Hanoi Medical University's Optometry Program.

Mzuzu Academic Vision Centre Remediation

GRANTEE: Canadian Vision Care

This grant is being used to repair and maintain the vision teaching center facility for the University of Mzuzu's Optometry Program in Mzuzu, Malawi. The university program, funded in part by Optometry Giving Sight in 2008, has resulted in the graduation of 172 optometrists to date.

Pop-Up and Mobile Vision Clinics

GRANTEE: Healing California

Healing California is using this grant to provide pop-up and mobile vision clinics throughout California for people needing vision care. By providing free, quality vision services to those who need them most, Healing California champions equitable healthcare coverage for all people.

EyeTeach – Enhancing Teaching Skills of Optometry Educators in India

GRANTEE: India Vision Institute

This grant is being used to provide training in teaching and instruction to 100 faculty members at 40 optometry schools in India. It is estimated that the additional training will enable faculty members to positively impact the education of current and future optometry students nationwide.

Strengthening Pediatric Optometry in Mozambique

GRANTEE: Light for the World International

Light for the World International is using this grant to train 20 optometrists employed by the national Mozambique government. Participants will undergo specialized training in critical skills related to pediatric eye care, including pediatric refraction and optical corrections.

Providing Glasses and Eye Care to Primary School Children in Western Jamaica

GRANTEE: See Better. Learn Better Jamaica

The organization is using this grant to provide optometry services and improve the eye health system in western Jamaica. Included in the project are eye exams and eyeglasses for school-aged children, training of optometry students and opticians, and collaborative efforts with local hospitals and other eye care providers on the island.

Expanding Special Olympics Opening Eyes Vision Care Programming for People with Intellectual Disabilities

GRANTEE: Special Olympics

Special Olympics is using this grant to improve the vision and health of people with intellectual disabilities and raise awareness of vision care's role in their well-being. Funding is being used to support the organization's Opening Eyes program, which provides Special Olympics athletes free eye exams and eyeglasses. A portion of the award will also be used to provide specialized training for optometrists, optometry students, and other eye care practitioners who volunteer to provide the exams.

Serving the Eye Care Needs of Children in Santo Domingo Through Education, Advocacy, and Research

GRANTEE: Technological University of Santiago (UTESA)

UTESA uses this grant to provide comprehensive eye exams and eyeglasses to 1,000 public school children in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. A portion of the grant is also being used to gather research data on the prevalence of refractive error and visual impairment within the Dominican population. Results will be presented to local Dominican authorities and published in a peer-reviewed journal.

Francophone Optometry Development Program

GRANTEE: Université de Montréal/Unité de Santé International

The project funded by this grant supports developing new or emerging optometry programs in La Francophonie, namely in Morocco, the Republic of Congo, Lebanon, Vietnam, Mali, and Senegal.

Development of Optometry in Haiti

GRANTEE: Université de Montréal

This grant is being used to fund the continuing development and growth of the School of Optometry at the University of Haiti in Port-Au-Prince. The school was established in 2017 in part by funding from Optometry Giving Sight and recognized its first cohort of Haitian optometrists in 2024.

Optometry Program in Advocacy and Leadership (OPAL)

GRANTEE: World Council of Optometry

The World Council of Optometry is using this grant to offer its Optometry Program in Advocacy and Leadership (OPAL) training to practitioners from countries where the profession is not yet fully established. The ongoing program is offered virtually and provides participants worldwide with the tools and resources they need to develop sustainable vision care advocacy programs in their countries.

Advancing Optometry and Sustainable Vision Services in Sierra Leone

GRANTEE: Vision Action

Vision Action is using this grant to strengthen the optometry profession in Sierra Leone, which currently includes only eight optometrists and 17 optometry technicians. Funding will be used to train additional optometry technicians and to support the upcoming launch of the Optometry Association in Sierra Leone to make available continuing professional development for current and future optometrists in the country.

UNAN Non-Profit Optical Laboratory in Nicaragua

GRANTEE: Volunteer Optometric Services to Humanity California (VOSH California)

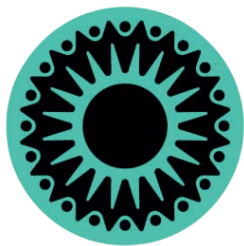

VOSH California uses this grant to develop an optical lab at the National Autonomous University of Nicaragua (UNAN). In collaboration with other organizations, Optometry Giving Sight helped fund the creation of a School of Optometry at the university. The award is allowing for the purchase of a patternless edger and 20,000 single vision lenses so that many of the eyeglasses prescribed via the school's community outreach programs can be created on-site at a much lower cost, allowing for more subsidized or free glasses to those who cannot afford them.

Optometric Education and Humanitarian Optometric Services in Four Regions of the World

GRANTEE: Volunteer Optometric Services to Humanity (VOSH International, Inc.)

This grant will be used to provide training and equipment for faculty and students of optometry schools in low- and middle-income settings within Latin America, Africa, and the Middle East. Funds are also enabling VOSH to offer primary vision care services and eyeglasses to patients in the regions.

GLOBAL IMPACT MAP

A Year of Giving Sight and Expanding Optometry Worldwide

Seeing Clearly in California

Thanks to a grant from OGS to Healing California, Malcom and his caregiver, Leslie, received free eye exams and eyeglasses at a recent optometry clinic in Pleasanton, CA. Malcom is a die-hard Golden State Warriors fan and is very excited to view life through his new glasses and have a better view of the next game! In addition to being a super fan, Malcom also plays basketball on a Special Olympics team. And Leslie is a coach!

Building Sustainable Solutions

Thanks to OGS donors and VOSH California, a new non-profit optical lab at National Autonomous University of Nicaragua (UNAN) is transforming eye care in Nicaragua. This program is more than just affordable glasses—it's about empowering communities with the tools and knowledge to sustain lasting solutions for better eye health. The onsite lab will enable patients to get eyeglasses more quickly and for less!

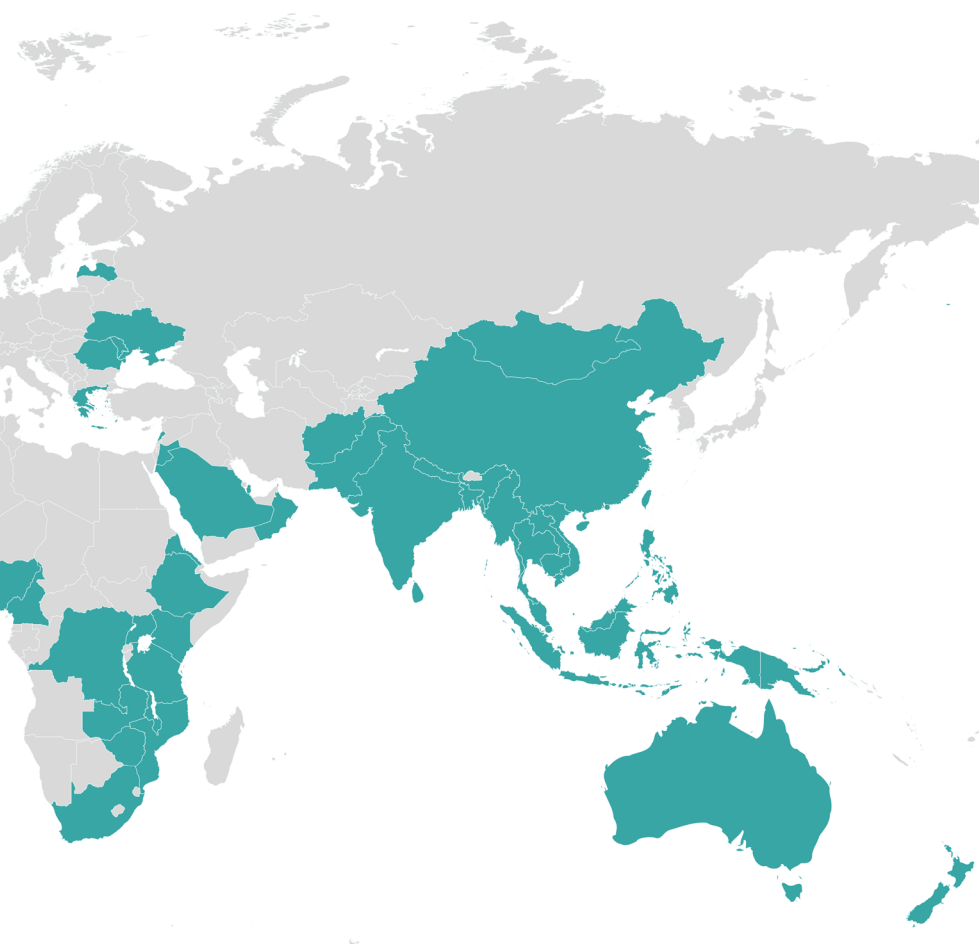

Putting Smiles on Faces of Children in Jamaica

What does it mean to a child in need who can see clearly with a pair of new glasses? A grant from Optometry Giving Sight to See Better: Learn Better Jamaica is giving the gift of sight to hundreds of children like this little girl, whose smile speaks volumes about the excitement she feels at being able to see the world more clearly. Good vision is truly life-changing!

University of Haiti Students Serve Community

When the call went out for volunteers, these students from the University of Haiti's Optometry School went into action. The school is one of 14 funded in part by OGS to train optometrists in areas of the world most in need. This is how OGS is expanding the optometry profession to give the gift of sight to everyone, everywhere.

Helping Students Learn in Sierra Leone

Meet Isha, a 10-year-old student in Sierra Leone. After struggling to see the blackboard and falling behind in her studies, Isha was diagnosed with a long-standing refractive error during a school vision screening. A grant from OGS to Vision Action enabled her to undergo an eye exam, and to receive eyeglasses the very next day! Now, she can see clearly, learn confidently, and embrace a brighter future.

Training Optometrists to Teach in India

More than 100 instructors at 40 optometry schools are taking part in the Eye Teach course, made possible by a grant from OGS to the India Vision Institute. According to participant Anitha Arvind, the class "has been one of the best courses that I took part in as an educator and continues to be my favourite, too! The course gave me a lot of clarity about designing assessments and selecting the appropriate test formats for the competencies to be tested. It also gave an overview of the challenges faced in teaching and interacting with peers on this subject. I found this course extremely useful in supporting my teaching practice and I am deeply privileged for being part of this great course." Arvind serves as Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Optometry, School of Medical and Allied Sciences, G D Goenka University, Gurugram, Haryana.

Haiti Interns Prepare to Teach

Haiti Optometry School graduates Jonathan Simon and Anne-Christy Orcel, have just completed an internship at the Université de Montréal (UdeM) School of Optometry. The Haiti school was established in 2013 by UdeM, Optometry Giving Sight and the Brien Holden Foundation. The two will soon begin serving as remote faculty at the school, and will return to teach in person when travel is again allowed to the country. The Haiti program is just one of 14 optometry schools OGS has helped establish to address the dire shortage of optometry professionals in undeveloped and developing countries,

DONATIONS AT WORK

SERVING SPECIAL NEEDS CHILDREN LIKE KAEYTON IN MOZAMBIQUE

In Mozambique, there is a heartbreaking lack of specialized pediatric eye care available for children.

Some young people who suffer from preventable blindness or unusual vision impairment cannot get the specialized care they need and have been forced to live in the isolation that results from the inability to see and interact with the world around them. Donations to Optometry Giving Sight (OGS) are helping to increase the number of optometrists trained to treat these children.

OGS awarded a grant for an eight-week pediatric training program for 10 optometrists from the country's Ministry of Health to gain the necessary knowledge and strategies to successfully examine, diagnose, and treat young children.

Nine-year-old Kaeyton is autistic. He had never worn eyeglasses or undergone an eye exam before. So, having an exam could have been a difficult and unsettling experience for him.

Because children cannot always verbalize or explain what they are experiencing – and may be afraid of unfamiliar experiences – examining a young patient requires special strategies and methods to successfully complete the exam. It is these techniques – as well as the use of specialized equipment – that were the focus of the training. So, Kaeyton's exam was successful!

The results revealed that Kaeyton suffered from significant myopia (nearsightedness) and that he could not see objects or people that were further than eight inches away. That explained why Kaeyton would not look straight ahead and preferred looking at objects very closely. Yet, with corrective eyeglasses, Kaeyton's vision improved immediately. He was able to look straight ahead and to see and interact with people and his environment in new ways that will change his life forever.

GIVING SIGHT TO SYAMTHANDA AND OTHERS IN SOUTH AFRICA

Optometry Giving Sight awarded a grant to the African Eye Institute to implement the ambitious and impactful “One School at a Time Program.” It is one effort in a larger initiative to provide critical access to eye health services for underserved children aged 6 to 19 in South Africa.

The program focuses on offering vision screenings for 16,000 children and distributing free spectacles to those in need, empowering them to thrive academically and socially. It also provides training of more than 300 teachers and others to conduct vision screenings and identify early signs of eye health issues in children.

One student who has benefited from the program is Syamthanda, a bright seven-year-old at Sunnyvale Primary in KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa. She is one of the anticipated 16,000-plus students who will benefit from the effort.

Before the screening, she struggled in class, often squinting and falling behind. Vision care was unaffordable for her family. So, like many children in developing countries, she had never had an eye exam and didn't realize poor vision was holding her back. Her first eye test brought excitement and hope.

Once she received her glasses, the difference was immediate—she participated more, read confidently, and completed assignments with ease. Her teacher saw a remarkable improvement in her academics.

At home, her parents were thrilled to see her reading. Unlike some children, she adjusted easily to her new eye-glasses, viewing them as an empowering tool. Her classmates even admired them, which boosted Syamthanda's confidence.

Beyond direct service delivery, it advocates for government prioritization of child eye health and for building capacity in the eye health workforce.

The project aims to bridge the gap in child eye health resources, addressing challenges such as refractive errors, myopia, and other vision impairments that hinder the educational and social development of young learners. By integrating eye health into primary healthcare systems and fostering collaboration between educators, optometrists, and policymakers, the program aspires to create a replicable and sustainable model that benefits future generations.

Through the combined efforts of Optometry Giving Sight and the African Eye Institute, this program has the potential to significantly reduce vision-related health disparities in South Africa and improve the quality of life for countless children, while advocating for systemic changes in child eye health policy and service delivery.

CORPORATE PARTNERS

Optometry Giving Sight is grateful to our major corporate partners across the United States and Canada. They help make it possible for us to support global projects that train local eye care professionals, establish vision centers and deliver eye care and glasses to under-served people and communities around the world. To all of our company and corporate donors, we say thank you for giving sight and hope!
